2012 HERITAGE AWARDS

This year's Community Heritage Awards were a great success and demonstrated the range of issues the commission is engaged in. Public art, commercial revitalization, maintaining heritage structures, heritage walking tours and my favourite is the use of social media to confirm and expand our understanding of our heritage.

Many thanks to Mayor and council for another year of unflagging support for the commission, a special thanks to Councillors Michael Morden and Bob Masse for their council liaison commitment. They always provide excellent feedback on councils needs and on issues the commission is involved with.

This year the big theme coming from those involved in preserving and defining our heritage is the need for a modern Museum and Archives. We need to tell our story and we simply don't have the facilities to do the job.

Craig Speirs, Chair

- ① Kathy Katona McIntosh receiving the Sheila Nickols Heritage Achievement Award from Facebook friend Mayor Ernie Daykin. Kathy created the "We Call It Haney!" Facebook page, which has become a wildly successful way for people to connect or re-connect with our community. Its almost 1300 members contribute priceless information for our museum and archives, especially when the people and places in pictures need identification and dating. Val loves this page!
- ② Trudi Desrocher and Steve Bentley have shown their commitment to preserving the Byrnes residence in Whonnock, a designated heritage site. When the time came to re-roof the house they chose to apply "barn shakes" just like the original. Their neighbour Reginald Friesen who owns the second heritage home on the site did the work. For their efforts they won the Heritage Building Award.
- ③ The highlight of the evening was to recognize the Designation of the BMO built in 1911 building that has housed Billy Miner Pub since 1981, a 100 year and 30 year anniversary. The new owners Alpenhaus Restaurants Ltd. have entered into a Heritage Revitalization Agreement with the District of Maple Ridge which will protect the heritage character of this building forever. Receiving the award from Mayor Daykin is Sue Dunn, the manager of the Billy Miner and Niki Reibin the Director of Operations for Alpenhaus Restaurants.
- ④ There is no better way to celebrate our heritage than public art. Bruce Walther and Ann Wilson assisted by Dylan Hartley have done just that by creating two more mosaics for our downtown. One recognizing the legacy of our first settler, Sam Robertson who planted our first orchards and the largest local processing facility, Berryland Cannery. The other the unique railway logging technique used by Abernethy & Lougheed Logging Company namesake of Allco park. The technique was so famous that Winston Churchill paid a visit to see it in action.
- ⑤ St. Andrews Heritage Church was packed with an appreciative crowd of history supporters as the annual Heritage Awards were presented. Everybody enjoyed scrumptious treats and beverages while swaying to the dulcet tones of the Lava Lights with singer Catherine Barrington. A good time was had by all!

District Staff have also been recognized for their work in creating a heritage walking tour for our downtown. Michael Eng, Lisa Zosiak and Fred Armstrong assisted by Cailin Green of Avalon Design put together the tour with historical content supplied by Val Patenaude from the Maple Ridge Museum and Archives. Take the tour and become a tourist in your own town.
