ARTISTS IN RESIDENCE CULTURE DAYS ACTIVITIES

"Lend Your Voice So Ours Can Live" will be an interactive video recording experience to promote, learn and build awareness for the local hənqəminəm language by Manuel Strain. Participants can offer their voices to record a phrase in the language of this land and share their language(s) too.

Note | also runs on Sept. 28 at the ACT Arts Centre from 11:00am-3:00pm.

"Thenwedieatron" and "Portraitron 2300" are two interactive installations by Natali Leduc.

The "Thenwedieatron", is a pyramid inflated by a bicycle-propelled fan and can be seen as a puppet/entity. Participants are invited to pedal the bicycle and enter the pyramid (through an ante-chamber). It tells the story of the ephemeral quality of life and the fragile relation of trust between people. This installation was made in collaboration with Matthew Gorgol.

Note | runs on Sept. 27 at Eric Langton School from 6:00-8:00pm.

The "Portraitron" installation is a mix of performance, kinetic sculpture, creative writing and invention. It consists in doing the portrait of participants on an electric typewriter that is deprived of electricity and modified in such a way that it is powered by a stationary bicycle. While the participant rides the bicycle, the artist creates his/her/their portrait on the typewriter.

Note | runs on Sept. 28 at the ACT Arts Centre from 11:00am-3:00pm.
